

JUMP START YOUR CAREER

Transitioning from college student to young professional in the “real world” is a time full of excitement and apprehension. At BTI360, we develop you, a young engineer, both personally and professionally, helping you establish the skills to succeed as a versatile and valuable leader on your software team.

We've Got Your Back

You'll have the support of a team of engineers with years of experience who have been where you are and who are ready to guide you in making a smooth transition from college student to young professional.

Why We're Different

Not all software development companies are the same. You want a company that's committed to your training and development, yet gives you the freedom to discover, learn, and expand your passions in software engineering. That's BTI360, and we have a plan for you.

BEST PLACES TO WORK

Washington Business Journal

2010, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019

Our Plan For You

You want to reach your full potential. Here's our plan to help you get there and become a versatile and valuable leader on your software team.

Grow as an Engineer

We're committed to your development, providing mentorship and a personalized plan so you become an exceptional software engineer.

Find Your Passions

We give you the opportunity to explore your technical curiosity, so you can discover and pursue your passions.

Be Part of a Community

We're a team of engineers, led by engineers. While we share a passion for software development, we enjoy getting together and having fun.

Ready to Join Us?

So you're ready to join a team that's committed to your personal and professional development, gives you the freedom to discover your passions, and has a little fun along the way? Great — you're in the right place. Apply to BTI360 today!

bti360.com/students/#after-graduation

Patrick Irish | Program Development Manager | (C) 571.639.6190
44031 Pipeline Plaza Suite 325 | Ashburn, VA 20147 BTI360.COM